

Rapid Transit Press
Dedicated to Preserving Retail History.

Recently Rapid Transit Press has branched out into a new area of interest to include shopping malls and retail stores. More and more retail stores are disappearing and I feel it is important to record the histories of these retail establishments before they are gone. RTP is pleased to present “The Plaza” a new newsletter focusing on retail stores and shopping malls. Some of the topics being worked on for future issues of “The Plaza” include; The Broadway, Bullock’s, Tower Records, and shopping malls such as Del Amo Fashion Center, Long Beach Plaza, and Stonewood Center. We are still currently working out a subscription rate for the new publication but we looking for people who are interested in subscribing. If you are interested in this new publication, we want to here from you. Please fill out the information below and mail back to us.

DON'T WORRY for those of you who enjoy our transit related publications, relax, we are still doing those. In fact here at RTP we are working on several transit related projects that should be complete in the early part of 2007. The “RTP News and Views” is also still being produced and future issues are in the works.
